

Nordic Bats Seminar

April 25th | Vitenparken | Kornrommet
Norwegian University of Life Sciences
Høgskoleveien 1, 1433 Ås

Time	Name	Affiliation	Talk
09:30 - 10:00	Coffee and snacks provided in Kornrommet
10:00 - 10:10	Katrine Eldegard	Welcome and introduction to the seminar
10:10 - 10:45	Thomas Lilley	BatLab Finland, University of Helsinki	Fennoscandian bats in urbanized environments: the dwellers, utilizers and avoiders
10:45 - 11:20	Johnny de Jong	Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences	Habitat selection of Myotis brandtii and Myotis mystacinus in relation to forestry
11:20 - 11:55	Jeroen van der Kooij	Naturformidling van der Kooij	Prelim: Need for joint Nordic guidelines for capturing and handling bats?
12:00 - 13:00	Lunch break - purchase from Vitenparken or visit nearby cantines
13:00 - 13:45	Peter Sunde	University of Aarhus	Wolf recolonization of Denmark and Central Europe: biology, management, and politics
13:45 - 14:15	Mari Aas Fjellidal	BatLab Finland, University of Helsinki	Supersize me: Pre-hibernation fattening in Nordic bats
14:15 - 14:30	Break
14:30 - 15:15	Heather Wood	Stockholm University	Structural diversity in linear deciduous remnants benefits bats but not moths
15:15 - 15:45	Katrine Eldegard	BatLab Norway, Norwegian University of Life Sciences	Title of talk to be determined Closing comments

It is free to attend, but space is limited. Please RSVP here:

